Memphis Roller Derby's Championship Bout

(April 22, 2008)— Tigers' loss got you down? Are you seeking a unique Memphis sport with hard-hitting action and fierce competition? Do you want all this AND fishnets and roller-skates? Then come down to the Midsouth Fairgrounds on Saturday, April 26th at 7p.m. as the wicked women of Memphis Roller Derby battle to see which team will reign supreme in the Championship Bout of the season.

For the second year in a row, the vicious vixens of the Angels of Death (AOD) have ruled the rink undefeated. Once again they face off against their arch-rivals, the warlike Women of Mass Destruction (WMD). Will the AODs leave the WMDs 'Resting in Pieces,' or will the WMDs Kill! Kill! Kill! the Angels on the track??

Doors open at 6p.m. Bout action begins at 7p.m in the Youth Building. This event is open to all ages. Admission is $10 for adults, $5 for kids ages 5-12, kids 4 and under FREE. Must be 21+ up to drink.

The Youth Building is located at 940 Early Maxwell Boulevard.

Memphis Roller Derby (MRD) is a group of more than 60 ferocious women dedicated to their skates, as well as coaches, trainers, referees, and volunteers. Founded in 2006, MRD is composed of four teams: the PrissKilla Prezleys, the Angels of Death, the Women of Mass Destruction, and the Legion of Zoom. All skaters are 21 years of age or older and are intimately acquainted with strawberries, bruises, blisters, and abrasions. And yes, that's with pads.
